PENTECOST 15

Welcome to our multicultural church at 10 am

Our Guest minister is Rev. Doug Hosking

Exodus 15:16-11, 20-21

Today's passage, sometimes known as [Moses'] Song of the Sea, consists of song of praise and thanksgiving to God for deliverance from the Egyptians. An earlier and more concise form is found in verse 21. The vivid imagery of the song focuses on God's historic victory over Egypt, with references to the drowning of the Egyptians at sea (vv. 1, 4, 5, 9) and the deliverance of Israel (v.8). However, these are particular examples of what is eternally true of God. The account of the escape of the children of Israel is celebrated as a sign of the global purposes of God, which include God's intention to confront and overcome all that is chaotic and oppressive in the world, including the perpetrators of injustice. This is God at work as creator and redeemer, using forces that are historical and non-historical. The narrative reinforces God's identity as the creator whose power is both historic and cosmic. Martin Luther King wrote that "Egypt symbolizes evil in the form of humiliating oppression, ungodly exploitation, and crushing domination". God overcome all that Egypt represented and God's everlasting redemptive purposes continue to be worked out in our time. Whatever our personal or community circumstances, we are summoned to be faithful and to trust God at all times.
